85 City Blocks Being Semi-Hard Surfaced

Really Hamlin is coming out of the mud.

There was a time when a slight rain would prevent one in Hamlin from using a car. This is a black land country and the soil is black and rich, and with just a little water it gets impassable.

Recent years, through the government program, the city has been enabled to get out of the mud and each year lifts it higher.

There is a WPA project in progress here now and has been for many months. It called for 85 city blocks of grading and surfacing with caliche or gravel. Up to this time the following streets have been treated, and we shall add, it is the best work yet done, according to looks: The streets are South Farwell from 15th street north to 11th and one block on 12th street to connect with Central Avenue. Then beginning one block west of Central, on 10th street, the work extends west to include Houston Avenue. Houston Avenue is the farthest west avenue, and this week the work is finishing that much needed lane. Some will be surfaced. This will belt the main part of Hamlin with passable streets.

We are reliably informed that North Farwell Avenue is to be included in the 85 blocks. This is a prominent street and should be included within the belts of all-weather travel. To connect this avenue, it will likely have one block surfaced at the north end and one at the south end connecting with Central Avenue. Farwell Ave is the first Ave east of Central Ave.

While talking about streets, let the Herald urge that we ALL quit mentioning streets as "something somewhere," why not memorize their names and maybe someday somebody will figure out some way to get the money with which to label the names on them. Remember our streets and avenues are named but NOT marked.

BUSINESS MEN CHANGE PARKING

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

On last Saturday through the Chamber of Commerce Office a request was made to all business houses on main street that the owners of cars, please park their own cars at back of building or on side street so as to give room for those coming in from the trade area to have more room. All of these co-operated in a very nice way, at one place the owner reported 10 cars parked at back of building in ally, another reported 7. If people who live in town and not in business would do likewise, it will still be of much help to remove congestion on main street, remember too, this should be observed even after night on Saturday, as we observe there were about as many cars in town after dark last Saturday as there was any time in the evening, so again we say to all "thank you" for your kind co-operation and hope that you will continue to lend this kind of co-operation every Saturday from now on.

MEMBERSHIP INCREASED

At the Chamber of Commerce Breakfast last Friday morning, opportunity was given for new membership, and as a result 22 new members were received into the organization. Several others increased their monthly dues, which as a result has increased our income from $65.00 per month to $102.00. The membership committee of which W. A. Cassle is chairman will solicit all who were not at the breakfast, and it is their hope that the income can be increased to as much as $125.00 per month. This of course will give us an amount of money that we can really begin to put on a worthwhile program. Every business in Hamlin should consider well before they tell this Committee "No"—for anything that is done to help Hamlin will help each individual business.

CELEBRATES 80th BIRTHDAY

Last Saturday and Sunday Earl Temple and family came down to spend the time with his father, W. N. Temple, whose birthday was celebrated two days ahead.

On Tuesday, March 15, Mr. Temple was 80 years of age. No one would think Mr. Temple is near that old. He leads a moderate, active life, works every year on his son's farm in Dawson County. He keeps one of the prettiest yards in Hamlin. Yet he says his dad dates his birthday back to March 15, 1858. He is a Tennessean, and remembers the roar of the cannons at the battle of Murfreesboro. He has been in Texas since the age of 26. He lived at Moody for 10 years and later moved to Galveston County in time to be in the great storm of 1900, near Alvin.

After experiencing so much water he got back to Moody and in 1914 he came out to good old dry Jones County. He says out here the rains are wet enough but spaced too far apart.

Here's wishing Mr. Temple many more happy years.

GIRL SCOUTS HUT NEARLY DONE

Last week we gave a hint that the Girl Scouts of Hamlin were soon to get a "home of their own."

This week it is a reality, and within a few days the entire building, which faces west on Houston Avenue, will be done.

It is a box-weather boarded structure, 28 feet by 24 feet. It is cut into rooms and fixed to be a real outing place for the girls.

Next they will be furnishing it, decorating the grounds and making it look in keeping with its mission.

Those sponsoring this needed place for the girls, requests the Herald to tell everybody who has contributed, encouraged and aided in any manner that they are extremely thankful. The girls also join in this expression.

B. T. BEAVERS ASKS FOR SUPT. OFFICE

Below our readers will see the formal announcement of B. T. Beavers for the office of County Superintendent of Jones County Schools.

Mr. Beavers formerly served in this capacity and was formerly a teacher in the Neinda School. He hardly needs an introduction in any part of the county. Mr. Beavers is brief in his talk and all his announcements and this will be borne out by his announcement this week which is as follows:

TO THE CITIZENS OF JONES COUNTY:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County Superintendent of schools. If elected, I shall strive to do the following:

1. To conduct the affairs of the office in accordance with the school laws of Texas.
2. To try earnestly to render efficient and courteous service to those having business to transact in the County Superintendent's office.
3. To be cooperative in all matters pertaining to the welfare of any public school pupil in the county.
4. Finally, it shall be my aim to raise the standard of the Jones County Schools a little higher.

I shall appreciate your support. If elected, I shall diligently strive to do the job well.

Respectfully,
B. T. BEAVER.

Mrs. Cleve Dunn had as her guest this week Mrs. Dorothy T. Page, of Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Irvin Smith visited relatives in Weatherford and attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth this past week-end.

Mrs. J. E. Moody returned Saturday from Dallas where she visited her daughter, Miss Mary Beth Moody who is attending S. M. U. While away, she also visited her brother and his family in Waxahachie.

N. R. Packwood and his daughter, Mrs. J. T. Hamrick, and Mrs. Morton Keen made a trip to El Paso last week, returning Saturday. Mr. Packwood has just recently made a trip to his old Mississippi home.

Hamlin Business Men Breakfast Together

Fancy Hamlin's business men in a big breakfast together! Big men, little men, hearty eaters, and finey eaters, all assembled in one big family-like breakfast. It happened just that way last Friday morning, at the Morgan Hotel. It was a FREE breakfast. There were about 70 present too.

IT HAPPENED THIS WAY

You see, W. C. Russell, (Ted) is the new president of the Chamber of Commerce and some unusual thing was thought up to get the boys together. Every house was invited, and since some houses are presided over by women, it was natural that a number of women made up that number of 70 men. They got there at 7:45 too.

In that number of people there were several who did not know his next elbow neighbor and introductions of one Hamlin man to another was common. Some rushed in yawning, some with sleek clean faces and others just threw down the broom and came a running. It was NOT a dress show. Who cared? There was an inviting plate for each and everyone . . . bacon, toast, eggs, coffee, and a lot of trimmings, all of which soon disappeared.

W. E. Benson, the secretary, introduced the new President whose approval was shown by the hearty hand clapping. Ted related the purposes of the "get-together" and then outlined why things look good around Hamlin. He proved that every business concern in Hamlin should prosper this year, if only there is enough pulling together.

On each plate there was a sheet of paper bearing the names of all committees that go to make up a "going wheel" for the community. At the top of the sheet there appeared this quotation: "Towns don't grow—they are BUILT" and "Cities are what men make them." The Hamlin community, from a business point of view in 1938, is in the hands of the officials of the Chamber of Commerce and the following committeemen:

From every angle, this Early Breakfast was considered one of the best get-together meetings in Hamlin's history. Don't be surprised if you hear of another like it in the near future. Hamlin might have a Breakfast Club.

It takes co-operative pulling for a community to have better things: Better streets, better roads, better markets, better homes, yards, parks, and a cleaner town. There is more to be done than this generation can accomplish. Let us be up early and looking after the present as well as the future.

DR. ROBERT HARP DECIDES HAMLIN IS A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE

Hamlin is considered one of the most healthful places in Texas, yet it has doctors and cemeteries. Recently two good doctors have looked this fair city over and liked it. One has heretofore been introduced, and this week the Herald introduces Dr. Robert Harp to our readers.

Dr. Harp has had an eye on this place as a field for practice for several weeks, while at the same time glancing toward a southern Texas center.

He says the people have been so nice and friendly to him and that this country looks so rich and good, there was just no use in looking further for a location. Hence Dr. Robert becomes our newest physician.

Dr. Harp has a wife and one small son. They have secured the Morrison home, on the corner of Third Street and Hope Avenue, this places him a near neighbor of Ye Editor, and a chance to get him "lined up." We find that Dr. Robert Harp was reared in Hale County, where his father was a pioneer physician for many years. Dr. Harp received his Bachelor of Science degree from an Indiana University. He then studied two years in the Main University of Texas, majoring in Science, and further pre-medical work. He received his M. D. degree from the University of Texas Medical College in 1918, served his internship in the University Sealy Hospital at Galveston.

He was employed in a large Texas clinic and hospital as diagnostician. He resigned his position there to enter private practice. That institution recommended Dr. Harp as an honest and efficient physician who is well trained and experienced in his profession.

He took several post-graduate courses at the New York Post-Graduate Medical College in 1928, in di-

SIX BOY PIANISTS ENTERTAINED ROTARY

A number of Hamlin boys are developing into good pianists under the direction of their teacher, Miss Gilbert.

Wednesday, Miss Gilbert presented six boys from her class in a musical program for the Rotary Club.

Milton Fletcher, Jimmy Clements, Donald Cherry, Charles Brown and Harold Fletcher of Hamlin and Buford Jackson of McCaulley gave piano numbers that indicated careful training, persistent practice and rare ability.

C. W. Bartlett of Anson, Texas, is your present Director and will be in charge of the election, which is to be held at the Courthouse, Anson, Texas, at 2 P. M., on the above date.

Two of the three distinguished judges of the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, Judges O. C. Funderburk and W. P. Leslie, were visitors in Hamlin last Saturday. Only one of these is up for re-election this year—Funderburk who, so far has no opponent, and will not likely have. The other member of the court is Judge Clyde Grissom.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell spent Sunday in Wichita Falls with their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Moore and husband.

FISHER CO. WENT STRONG ON COTTON

Roby voted 354 yes and 25 no; Rotan 345 yes and 30 no, McCaulley 141 yes and 2 no, Hitson 64 yes and 4 no, Sylvester 133 yes and 17 no, Palava 104 yes and 16 no, Capitola 118 yes and 13 no, Hobbs 78 yes and 1 no. There were 1,446 votes cast in the county, with 1,338 in favor of Marketing Quotas and 108 against them.

A CHICKEN LAW

Every year, about this time, the City authorities ask the Herald to remind the people there is a "chicken law" in certain districts of Hamlin.

Again this fact is made clear. If any one is disturbed by chickens, City Marshal Miles will receive your complaint and "gently" ask the flock owner to "pen up," or else.

TRASH DUMPING

The Herald is requested to announce for the city that persons dumping trash anywhere within the City Limits are subject to a fine.

Trash assembled in the alleys will be hauled off by the City FREE—then why go dump your trash on the edge of somebody else's property?

It is a good time to watch your step—trash can not be dumped just anywhere.

LESLIE WAYNE DIXON

Lesslie Wayne Dixon, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dixon, of Abilene, died Thursday, March 19 in the Hendrick Memorial Hospital following an operation some two weeks before.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Bethel Church, conducted by Rev. Walter Fielder and Rev. Ernest Massey, and burial was under the direction of Barrow Undertaking Company.

Lesley Wayne was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dixon who live six miles southeast of Hamlin.

APPOINTMENT AT ANNAPOLIS

The Herald has information that Congressman Clyde Garrett appointed a Hamlin boy, L. B. Williams, a student in A. & M. College, to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Further information is that L. B. did not quite make the physical examination grade. This is disappointing to L. B.'s many friends in Hamlin. It is known that the physical examination for the Naval Academy or West Point is the strictest of all tests. Maybe L. B. will get a break again soon.

REORGANIZATION

In the Senate, debate centered on the President's reorganization bill. Many opposed the bill as they felt it gave the President power to shift and change the structure of Federal bureaus and agencies and also the fact that it would put an end to bipartisan Civil Service Commission, and interfere with the present Comptroller General's office.

FEDERAL LICENSING OF CORPORATIONS

The Senate Committee on Judiciary held hearings on the Borah-O'Mahoney bill for Federal licensing of corporations. The bill was supported by Senator Borah who charged that four corporations, whose names he omitted to state, set the price of food in this country.

TRANSCONTINENTAL HIGHWAY

The bill providing for an eight-billion dollar transcontinental super highway project, which was introduced by Senator Bulkey, has little chance of passage this session as it has been transferred from the Committee on Banking and Currency to the Committee on Postoffices and Post-roads. Senator McKellar, chairman of this committee would rather have a commission study the subject before turning it over for action by Congress.

TAX BILL

The tax program, after many months of hearings and study, has been released from the House Ways and Means Committee. The program deals with modification of the present tax structure. The aims of the bill are to remove inequalities, equalize tax burden and stimulate business activities.

NAVY BILL

By a 20-3 vote, the House Naval Affairs Committee has reported a bill embodying the President's naval demands. The bill calls for a ship and plane building program to cost, exclusive of extensive personnel expansion handled in separate legislation, the sum of $1,121,546,000. It was originally estimated the cost of the program would be $800,000 but now it looks as though the program will be at least 40 per cent greater.

TRADE PUZZLES

The people of the United States use less foreign goods than foreigners use American goods. Exports from this country in January were $119,000,000 larger than imports, and foreigners are finding it difficult to keep carrying on trade with this country at that rate. The results is that these courtesies are shifting their trade to those nations that use more of their goods. If this should happen, sales of American products abroad may suffer a sharp contraction.

HOME CONSTRUCTION UP

An indicated steady upturn in home financing and construction activity throughout the country since the beginning of the year, especially since the signing of the amended National Housing act on February 3rd, is shown by the records of the Federal Housing Administration. Business transacted during the week ending February 26th exceeded that of the corresponding week of last year. Week-by-week tabulation of home mortgages selected for appraisal during the past three years has proved to be consistently sensitive index of residential financing and building activity.

AAA TO PURCHASE BUTTER SURPLUS

The AAA announced that the Federal Surplus Commodities Corp. has purchased 1,200,000 pounds of 92 score butter on New York and Chicago mercantile exchange under a purchase program which began a few days ago. The purchases of surplus butter are being made to prevent large commercial supplies from depressing prices to farmers. Butter purchased by the Corporation is being allocated to state relief agencies in several states for distribution to needy people.

MORTGAGE SCHEDULES

A simple, and easy-to-understand, amortization schedule which shows the penny, on any given payment date, the amount of his equity and the balance to be paid, is available to all who purchase homes through the insured mortgage plan of the Federal Housing Administration. Such purchasers should request this schedule from the mortgagee at the time the mortgage is insured by the FHA.

REQUESTS FOR FREE SEEDS

The flow of "free seed" letters is beginning again, but indications are there will be fewer than last year. For 15 years the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been trying to convince 130,000,000 people that it has no free seeds or plants. Yet each year, as spring approaches, thousands of requests pour in from farms, suburbs and penthouses. And all the writers of these letters meet disappointment.

Curiosa Americana

By Elmo Scott Watson

A to M but No J

IN CONTRAST to the short life of some of the letter combinations in the New Deal's "alphabet soup" is the fact that an alphabetical designation system originated by an American army officer 120 years ago is still in use. He was Col. Charles Kitchell Gardner and if you look in the "Historical Register and Dictionary of the United States Army" you will find him credited with being the "author of the designation of companies (May 22, 1816) by the first letter of the alphabet."

Born in New Jersey, Gardner was appointed an ensign in the army in 1808, served as a captain of artillery in the War of 1812, was transferred to the infantry and advanced to the rank of major and then colonel during that conflict. He finally resigned in 1818 and died in 1869.

Although Gardner's scheme for designating the companies in infantry and artillery regiments and the troops in cavalry regiments was by letters from A to M, there has never been a Company J in our army. The reason is that, at the time he invented the system, the letters I and J were still frequently written exactly alike. To avoid confusion the J was omitted. For the same reason there is no J street in Washington, D. C., where some of the principal thoroughfares are designated by letters instead of names.

KEEP THE HERALD COMING.

What Did a Chamber of Commerce Do For Me?

I have been doing some checking on this Chamber of Commerce thing—and Mister, it opens my eyes.

The one in my town helped me keep my job—maybe even made it possible in the first place.

That is quite a jump between me and the folks who buy the stuff I help to make. They may be across the ocean, in a foreign country, or they may be living in the next town. Wherever they are, it is no cinch to sell 'em and keep 'em sold.

I don't know much about freight rates, price agreements, quantity discounts, tariffs, or all those things I read about in the papers. But I do know they all add up to make the going plenty tough, these days.

And I know that the Chamber of Commerce is one outfit that is doing a lot to keep things moving—to get my product from me to my market, quick and cheap—No market—no job for me.

If the factory burns down, the pay roll goes up in the smoke, doesn't it? And what about the grocer and butcher who get theirs from that pay roll? That is why the Chamber of Commerce has a swell fire prevention program. And a sick workman can't make any money... reason enough for the Chamber keeping an eye peeled for local health conditions.

If the Chamber had not tried to get the city down to a common sense budget basis, taxes would have been so high some businesses would have moved where the burden was lighter and taken their jobs and factories with them.

Worry? Sure, our local business people worry! Where would I be if they didn't do my worrying for me and get together to do it? They're sweating their brains on a lot of riddles that would be just a headache to me. If they quit sweating, business bogs down and my job with it.

That's why I am staying—"what helps business helps me."

This is just a pick up of mine after reading what the Chamber of Commerce had to say in your paper last week. When I get back to Hamlin I aim to be a "big I" in the work.

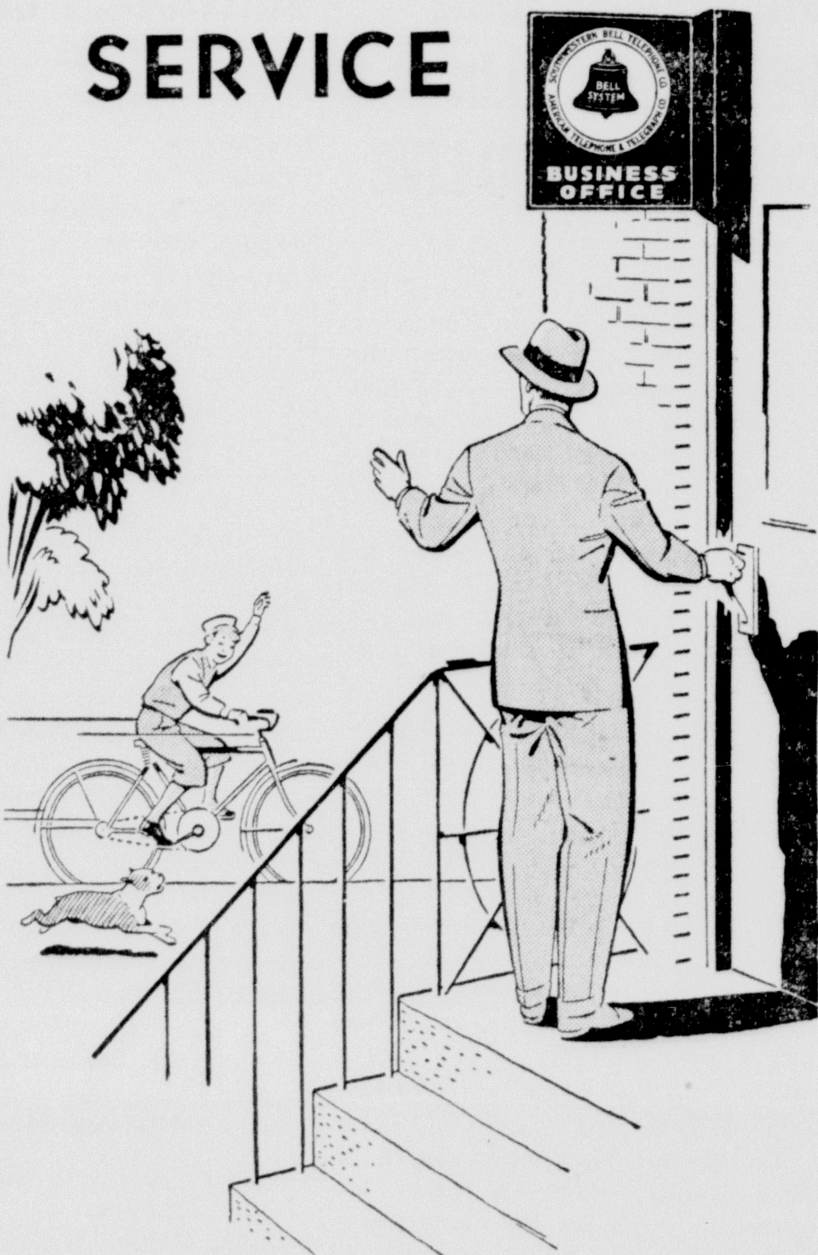

Signed W. L. CASH.

THE best thing about your telephone service is that it's home town service—tailor-made for you at the switchboard by people who live and work here.

Experts can develop better methods of giving you service. Scientists and engineers can contribute new inventions and developments. Western Electric can buy and manufacture economically for the operating companies of the Bell System.

And all of these things can—and do—help tremendously at the job of giving you good telephone service at a fair cost.

Yet not one of them could replace the qualities of friendliness and neighborliness which grow out of the fact that the men and women who operate the telephones here belong to and are part of this community.

Rev. J. A. Young, Pioneer Fisher Co. Farmer, Retired Writes About Cotton

(This article below appeared in The Roby Star Record and the Herald appreciates the privilege of reproducing it for its readers.)

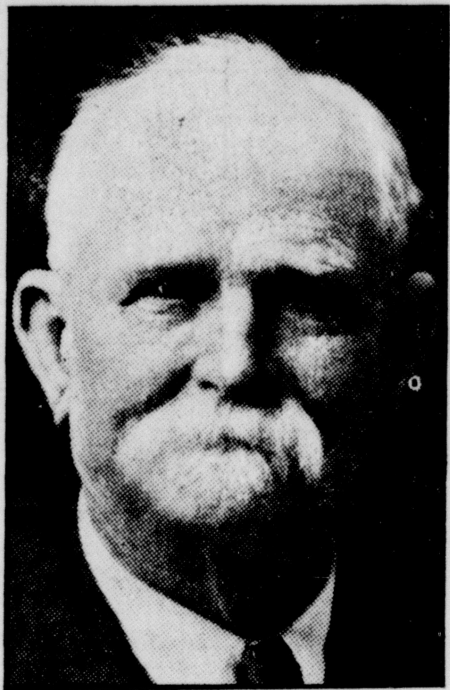

The cotton plant is rather ancient in its sphere and is traced back at least fifteen hundred years before the birth of Christ. Alexander the Great introduced it into Europe, and soon came the story of the vegetable lamb of Tartary, a plant supposed to bear little woolly lambs. Cotton is spoken of by Cabaza De Vaca, in his report to the King of Spain, after his expedition in 1528 in this country. It was found at that time among the Indians, who had woven blankets and crocheted mantles, caps and hand-bags. There was also found a wild bush called Turberia, possibly a runout of some species of the cotton plant the early Indians were using. But cotton as we know it now was first introduced into Texas by the Franciscan Monks, at the Spanish Missions, who planted small patches of the fleecy staple in their gardens. Soon after that the custom became general, and almost every Southern dweller had a small patch on their farm. But the great difficulty was to separate the fiber from the seed. This was done by hand, and we are told that it was a task for the slaves and some time the children of the family to separate a shoe full of cotton between supper and bedtime. A whole days work for one individual was only about four pounds.

One day a company of gentlemen, dined with Mrs. Green of Georgia, and they discussed a better way of separating the cotton from the seed. Young Ely Whitney an English school teacher, was one of the parties around the table and he was insisted upon to make some kind of a machine that would be better than the hand-picking they had been accustomed to. He at once began his experiments, with the result that early in 1793, he had invented the first Cotton Gin, that could do the work of one hundred slaves and soon after a number of gins were built.

We have several kinds of cotton: the Egyptian, Sea Island, and the Pima cotton. It is said that one of the longest staple, one pound can be spun into thread two hundred miles long. Some cotton is annual, others grow in shrubs three or four feet high, and others reach the size of trees fifteen to twenty feet high. Cotton growing on a commercial scale was introduced by Colonel Jared E. Groce, also called the Father of Texas Agriculture. He landed in Texas, with one hundred slaves, and some cotton seed which opened up the real cotton industry in Texas.

History tells us that from his plantation cotton was raised and ginned into bales of fifty and one hundred pounds and transported into the interior of Old Mexico, on mule back, two hundred and fifty pounds constituting a mule load. From then on other plantations opened up and soon cotton became the principal crop in the South. It was not very long until it was hailed, "King of the South." But while this honored title was given to the fleecy staple for over a century, little was known of the wealth that was treasured up in its kingdom until science with the aid of Chemistry, came on the field of action. It was then that we began to learn of the different by-products. Permit me to relate a personal experience. The latter part of the season of 1882 the writer of this article was employed in the management of a country gin east of Austin, Texas. The seed had accumulated possibly by hundreds of tons or more, until it was with difficulty to get to the different belts and pulleys. One day I conceived the idea of making a trough out of three one-by-six planks, in which I constructed a belt with cleats that carried the seed out into a deep gulley outside the gin house. In our modern day we would call that a conveyor, but we did not care to give it any name, we wanted to get rid of the seed and we felt rather elated over our achievement. Notwithstanding this wasteful practice, there were a number of cottonseed mills in Carolina, Mississippi, and one was built in Texas, in 1860, but for several reasons it had a small demand and the growth of the industry was rather slow, but it had a good foundation and that is the most essential thing in all activities.

J. A. YOUNG

We now drop down to 1919. A certain Mayor, in one of our Western towns, walked up to a soda fountain, with five or six of his friends and called for the drinks. They participated and discussed the topics of the day, and when ready to leave the Mayor pulled out of his vest pocket a cottonseed and laid it on the counter and said, "Please give me the change." This humorous incident was not by any means a price fixing on that commodity. It only served as a weather vane to show where the breeze came from and how a commodity that had been buried under the surface of exclusion for four hundred years has come to its own. But suffice it to say, that cottonseed was shipped in carload lots that same season for $80.00 a ton. This was perhaps the highest peak, we know this commodity to have brought, and the peculiar circumstances that caused it we do not wish to reoccur.

We now look on cotton as indispensable. It is in every home, and every village and factory. The housewife enjoys a good nights rest on a cotton mattress, on cotton sheets, cotton blankets, and quilts; dresses in ninety-five per cent cotton garments, walks out over the beautiful carpet and linoleum, cotton products, into her kitchen to prepare a meal for her family. She reaches her hand upon the shelf in the pantry for some shortening, a cotton product. The husband likewise, walks out to his

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB NEWS

The home economics club of Hamlin met today, March 17, for the first time under the supervision of our new sponsor, Miss Faye Duncan. We are glad to announce that a great deal more enthusiasm has been shown in the club work and several new members have been gained since the beginning of the second semester.

A very interesting program was rendered. Two numbers were given by the following members of the Choral Club: Constance Teague, Dorothy Fern Routh, Mary Frances Jackson, Elouise Adkins, Effie Lois McCoy, Rosemary Carlton, Pauline Shelton, Virginia Wells, and Willie Fay Hunter. They were accompanied by Maxine Brundage, the Club pianist. Several songs were sung by the entire group accompanied by Wade Burleson. He then rendered several popular number on the piano.

Business was taken up by the president, Juanita Harbert, and plans were made to sell home-made candy on the street. Watch for the date.

GOOD POULTRY EQUIPMENT NECESSARY FOR SUCCESS

Good poultry equipment is one essential of successful poultry raising. This is one thing that cannot be overlooked. A large number of baby chicks are lost each year due to inadequate equipment to care for them. Through the use of adequate brooding facilities one is able to care for the chicks early in the spring, and thus develop more profitable layers and earlier developed cockerels.

A homemade brooder 4 feet by 2 feet 10 inches can be easily constructed of scrap lumber and boxes found around the home. One recommended by the Extension Service A. & M. College is built in section so it can be easily cleaned and disinfected.

2 pieces 1" by 12"—4 ft. long for sides.—2 pieces 1" by 12"—2 ft. 8" for ends.—2 hinges for hanging door, cut on side of brooder (door 8" wide 10" high).—A sunporch is made of 1 piece 1-2" mesh hardware cloth 36" wide and 4 feet long. The sun porch is planned to keep the chicks off contaminated soil. This also makes more room for the chicks and allows them to get direct sunlight. The brooder house will accommodate from 60 to 70 chicks. By brooding the chicks up to four weeks stable and feeds his horses, mules, cattle and sheep, with cotton products, cake, meal and hulls, provided a commercial feed is used. The mechanic, opens his tool kit to render some service and picks up a tool, its handle is transparent, and almost indestructible it is called Pyrachrom, a product of cotton. We gaze up in the sky and see the airplane above the clouds, sailing over land and sea, some of their propellers are made from a cotton product, and much of their interior is cotton, this is true more so with the passenger ships. Likewise the beautiful passenger coaches on our railroads, the automobile, that jostle to and fro over our bus highways, has a large percent of cotton in their finish, and some of our highways are plated with cotton products. Our space is too limited to mention in detail the many by-products of the cotton plant, but we call your attention to a few more articles that we use every day without much consideration, such as composition roofing, artificial leather, phonograph records, soap, pigment in cheap paint, varnishes, powder, oleomargarine, cooking oil, explosive dynamite. The same ingredients that furnishes gunpowder on the battlefield is used in the surgeon's hands to dress and bind up the soldier's lacerated wound after the battle is over, namely, cotton. We have reason to believe that if all the by-products that are made from the cotton plant could be numbered in detail, the number would run up towards a thousand. Furthermore, if cotton could be valued in accordance to the service it renders to the human family we would speak of it in terms of dollars per pound, instead of a few cents.

Thou King of commerce. King of the South. Thou hast been very partial in thy reign. Thou hast clothed some in purple, other in poverty. Thou hast bent over many of thy subjects into an early grave. Thou has deprived their offspring of a much needed education in order to pluck and gather thy fleecy staple. We have heard thy voice flouted through the air both in cold and in heat, saying, toil on, toil on, toil on.

of age and then placing them in quarters where they do not require heat; another group may be placed in the brooder house, thus a person may raise 150—200 chicks a year with very little trouble. The brooder is heated with an ordinary low type kitchen hanging lamp. One self-feeder, at least 3 feet long and made so the chicken can eat from both sides, should be provided. Two one-half gallon fruit jars with attachments should be included with each brooder.

Some easily constructed waterers and feeders may be made by using things found around the home. A pie pan may be used for a waterer by fitting the pan with 1-2 in. wood float with holes bored in the top one inch in diameter; or a self-feeder may be made from a gallon bucket and a funnel—place the large part of the funnel in the bottom of the bucket cut several openings about 2 in wide and 3 in long in the sides of the bucket near the bottom leaving flaps on top that are bent in to allow chicks to feed. Smooth all sharp edges.

With a little initiative and a handy person with a saw, hammer and a can cutter, good substantial equipment can be made for the poultry yard and a profitable business may be established. If there are any questions about constructing the brooder house or equipment given here see Miss Jewell Hipp, Ass't. Home Demonstration Agent. A complete brooder house may be seen in the home demonstration Agent's Office on Saturdays.

NEW STAMPS: It is announced that a new series of stamps are to be issued—stamps issued in commemoration of former presidents of the United States in chronological sequence. The picture of each and everyone except Mr. Hoover will in time be seen. Mr. Hoover will never see his image on a regular postage stamp, neither will Mr. Roosevelt, for this honor will not be granted one till after death.

PRESIDENTS' WIVES have the distinction of drawing $30,000 per year as a governmental gratuity for having lived with such men. There are five, maybe six, lucky widows living—Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Taft, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Coolidge and Mrs. Wilson . . . perhaps there is a sixth one—Mrs. Cleveland would be drawing the gift had she not married again. Think of a woman sacrificing $30,000 a year for being married.

If you can buy something in Hamlin you need and do not do . . . it you are just cutting your cockeyed throat.

TRADE PROMOTION plans are being tried in many towns in this part of the country, and it is the thing to do. People go where there is excitement and "gifts," but the most important and lasting kind of trade promotion is "Markets." If promoters of trade extension would look daily after what their towns are paying for chickens, eggs and butter, that kind of trade is the best. Buy what the people have to sell, and top prices for it, if the stuff grades that way, and then in turn the seller will have money or trade for the local merchant.

We quote a part of an editorial from the Stamford American:

"Most wide awake business places have plans for drawing in trade from near-by cities and towns. The country around any city is a free-for-all place, where all nearby towns compete to see which shall get the best business. The place that carries on the most active campaign of solicitation will get the cream of that trade.

"The merchants of a city do well to unite in plans that will attract attention and draw trade from a considerable distance.

PULLING CHICKENS apart in a struggle to get $5.00 bills, is a practice resorted to by "attract trade." Last week a columnist of the Stamford Leader praised a trades day, but expressed a dislike for the inhuman manner of part of the program. She thinks it cruel to take a helpless thing and pitch it out to a band of people who struggle over its possession till its limbs and body is mangled by the frantic pulling. Wonder if she is not right? The world owes so much to the tender hearts of women. Keep it up young lady, the men will soon have a heart—there is a better way.

WASHINGTON information has been coming weekly from our Congressman, Mr. Garrett, and much of it is to the point and interesting. The American people do NOT know enough about what is being done or proposed to be done, or what has been done in congress. The Garrett letters help. Now to make such information have a real service, citizens should carefully read what is reported and then talk it over among themselves. Some items should have a million letters of approval or disapproval. This week, for example, the one about 8 BILLIONS for Super-Highways across a country of millions of families who must suffer for ages or till they rebel for the lack of homes. Spend 8 billions of dollars for highways upon which pay toll gates stand, or maybe free roads, and neither will such roads give work after they are built, comfort to the needy, food or shelter to the homeless. Better talk of spending 8 billion dollars for homes or something where dads and mothers can live and make a living for their children. Yes, everybody who has no home or a prospect of one should frankly tell their congressmen that if money can be had for other things than homes, it can be had for homes . . . watch the results.

Points and Personalities

by doris pope

Our recent spring weather has given everybody new life and added zest. People are cleaning up their yards and planting spring gardens—both vegetables and flowers. The weather has put everyone on his toes.

However, along with our "early spring" has come an epidemic of colds and sore throats. Some have tried to blame it on the sand storms, but a well known business man told us confidentially that it was because the majority of people had shed their "winter longies" too soon. Hence the epidemic of sniffles.

We have noticed the great scarcity of girls (also eligible young men) in our fair city, but we didn't realize the seriousness of the situation until we heard of a certain well-known dry goods manager "mugging" a dummy.

A popular young married lady (a recent bride) is finding that married life is even more lonely than being a bachelor girl.

As an artist of the kitchen, a prominent, young, brunette bachelor girl had better stick to her own profession. This week she "boiled the beans" just when eligible company was coming for dinner. (Another chance gone with the wind.)

With all of the new cars and new-weds in town, we presume that we must have turned the corner that prosperity has been hiding around all of these many years.

We understand that a handsome, young, travelling insurance salesman of our city is up to his old tricks again.

The town is wondering how a certain prominent business woman, (in the jewelry line) managed to grow such luxuriant locks overnight. (Perhaps she could pass her recipe on to Tom Williams, Bowen Pope and Ted Russell.)

We were told that at Tuxedo "Tiny" McGough was one of the central figures at a recent rabbit drive when it came to eating, but that otherwise he didn't do much driving.

This last week a prominent lady-banker celebrated her birthday, but she refused to tell her age. Her fellow-workers wanted to remember

Last week we made a crack about people who said that no one reads the Herald, and on Tuesday we received a letter which proved our statements. People FAR and near, do read the Hamlin Herald. The letter came from Huddersfield, Yorkshire, ENGLAND, from a young man who is a student of journalism. A part of the letter is as follows:

"By an indirect method, a copy of the 'Hamlin Herald' came into my possession, and consequently your address. I have often thought it would be interesting to have an intelligent member of the feminine sex to correspond with in U. S. A., so herewith my letter.

"I also am interested in journalism but up to now have never written a column regularly. My brand has always been of the dubious bad variety, but I hope to improve that when I become fully-fledged."

(We don't know just what the young man meant by "intelligent"—maybe that's the English way of making a crack.)

Last week and one day this week the State Health Department had a man here on his usual inspection rounds.

For the information of the public we will tell you that the State is divided into six districts and we are in No. 1 District with headquarters at Floydada, Texas. Not far away from us.

In that district office are the following officials:

Misses Carlton and Edgebert, Nurses.

J. C. Oliver, Engineer.
Messrs. Eason and Baugh, Sanitarians.

C. L. Sumner, Food and Drug Inspector.

Mr. Sumner made the Herald a visit, and left with us a copy of a recent law concerning the way certain things should be kept as regards foods and drugs. He found one fountain and four cafes that were sterilizing glasses as the law indicates. He said this was a very unusual thing to find, and excepting one in Rotan this was the first place he had found such in several months. That is "something here." Mr. Sumner found plenty here to improve as he does in every town. While a guest of the Herald he called no names and thus where compliments belonged, one had a guess coming.

The law he especially wanted to be before the people is that one regarding Sterilization of Dishes, Receptacles and Utensils. It is as follows:

"No person, firm, corporation, or association operating, managing, or conducting any hotel, cafe, restaurant, dining car, drug store, soda water fountain, meat market, confectionery, or liquor dispensary or bakery, or any other establishment where food or drink of any kind is served, or permitted to be served to the public, shall furnish to any person any dish, receptacle, or utensil used in eating, drinking, or conveying food if such dish, receptacle, or utensil has not been (a) cleaned by washing in clean warm soap or alkaline solution until all visible grease and/or solid matter has been removed, and rinsed in clean water, and (b) sterilized by (1) heat, or (2) boiling in water for not less than two minutes, or (3) soaking in chlorine solution of a strength of not less than one hundred (100) parts per million for not less than five (5) minutes, subsequent to any use."

JONES CO. SCHOOL NEWS TO DATE

Every person, especially teachers, parents and trustees, can aid the school census enumerator in making his task of getting EVERY CHILD within the scholastic age enumerated. Each child who is six years old and under eighteen ON the 1st day of September 1938 should be enumerated. The per capita apportionment will be approximately $22.00, therefore it is very urgent that every child be on the roll of his home school. The census is being taken during the month of March and where the parents of the child reside ON the 1st day of April will determine his home district.

During the past week, the 6 Independent Schools of the County received $8,239.00 and the 41 common schools received $5,109.75, which makes $12.00 per child received to date. The per capita apportionment yet to come from the state is $10.00. Jones County will receive from the Rural Aid Fund as Salary Aid, $25,000.00, Transportation, $11,000.00, and Tuition, Approximately $8,600.00, or $44-

600.00 from this fund. The entire amount to be received from the state will be around $191,098.

At a meeting of the House of Delegates in Sweetwater last Saturday, comprised of representatives from each county in the O. B. T. A. Mr. Gordon Bennett, Principal of Hamlin High School, and Miss Hybern Grace, History teacher in Anson High School were among the ten delegates to the State Association meeting in the year at Dallas.

Approximately 600 students in the county will take some part in Interscholastic League events, which are being held in Stamford and Anson over the week-end.

At its last meeting, March 7, 1938 the County School Board took into consideration the fact that the School Laws of Texas sets aside 11 days throughout the year as holidays, and after due deliberation designated the following 8 days as legal holidays on which the Office of County Superintendent will be closed and requested that the public be so advised: January 1, New Years Day, February 22, Washington's Birthday, March 2, Texas Independence, April 21, San Jacinto Day, July 4, Declaration of Independence, November 11, Armistice Day, November—Thanksgiving Day, and December 25, Christmas Day.

The SEVEN rural schools which became standard during 1936-37 are permitted now under the State aid Law to make their budget on a nine month's term of school. The common schools taking advantage of this plan are: Tuxedo, Delk, Sunny Side, Carlton, Pleasant Hill, Turner Chapel and Boyd Chapel.

HEADED FOR EDEN

"Headed For Eden" is a brand new play which was released during the summer of 1937. Louisiana State University gave the premiere production of the play. Dr. Claude M. Wise, Director of the School of Speech, Louisiana State University "makes the following comment:—"Headed For Eden" is a good play for schools. It will appeal to the imagination of youth through its use of a romantic conception of Journalism, Detective work, Racketeering, and the like, and will appeal to the officers and constituents of a school because all the suggestions are handled with entire regard for the best ethic outlook. In other words, the play at one and the same time supplies the desire of youth to identify itself with exciting things, and with the desire of maturity to maintain proper reticence.

It is often interesting to study the sequence of laughter among an audience at a play. In the premiere of Headed For Eden, there was almost a continuous slight chuckle or murmur of appreciative amusement, punctuated periodically by outbursts of louder laughter.

Our players were unanimous in saying that they had a delightful time with the play, and many of those present who were directors announced their intentions of using it next year. All of our people, from directors to technicians down through the list, testified to having a delightful time with a satisfying vehicle."

The Hamlin High School Seniors are going to give a production of this delightful play, April 15, and they are looking forward to seeing all their friends present. There have been two additions to the cast since last week and they are Dortha Nell Dillard and Bill Norris.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for the lovely floral offerings and attention show us during the illness and at the death of our husband and father.

Mrs. B. Hassen, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wahweid of Munday, went to Muskogee, Sunday to visit Mr. Hassen in the hospital there. They returned Tuesday afternoon.

HAMLIN BOYS helped to make the Roosevelt Ton Bouquet of Roses that we read so much about last week at Amarillo. Iris and Foy Pribble of Hamlin operate a floral house in Hobbs, New Mexico, and these boys drove north, joined florists of Lubbock, Plainview, Tulia, Canyon and Amarillo in assembling the great mass of roses. A ton bouquet of roses in East Texas may have sounded about right but so many on the cold, snowy plains really is something for Texas.

TEST, TEST AND TEST

AMERICAN industry, according to Consumers Information, surpasses that of any other country in its exact methods of testing products and so assuring maximum performance before passing them on to the user. One company reports, for instance, that 25% of its labor and cost of production goes into testing. Above are shown tests of two of the 600 different operations which go into the manufacture of their vacuum cleaners. The young lady is balancing the fan, an intricate job in which she puts tiny drops of solder on the light side until the balance is perfect. SICKNESS takes a Holiday!

Their Health is Protected by Electric Refrigeration

Hospital Obstetrics Supervisor
Says: "It's Safest"

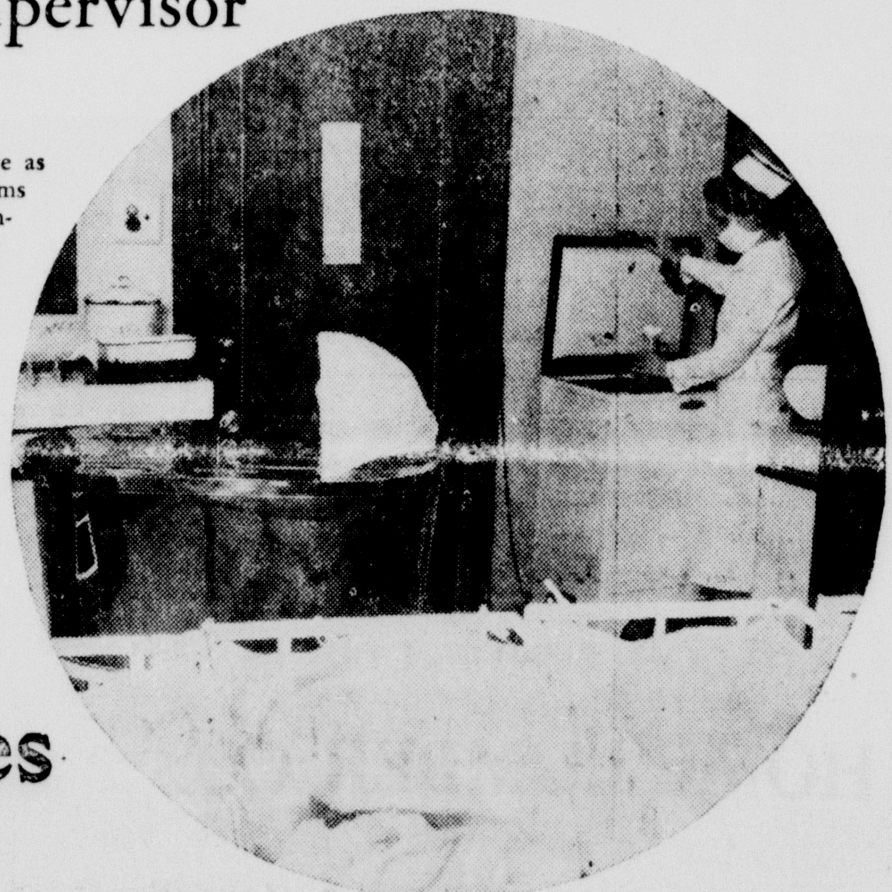

Economy in operation and safety from food spoilage are as important in your home as in any hospital! Therefore, it seems amazingly significant that most all hospitals, including Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene (see photos), depend largely on Electric Refrigeration for these two necessary performances. Miss Vera Smith, obstetrics supervisor, says: "We now have eight Frigidaires in use, one of which is in the maternity ward. I know of no better method than electric refrigeration as a means of providing one of many safeguards for the health of these babies." So when buying a refrigerator, please bear in mind that responsible persons, qualified to exert expert choice, everywhere are choosing Electric Refrigeration. Especially is this true in West Texas, where torrid summer heat makes it impossible for other types to maintain 40- to 45-degree temperatures—necessary for complete food protection. Electric service for refrigeration costs as little as 2 1/4 cents a day!

IN THE PICTURES

Snoozing peacefully are these youngsters, undisturbed by the electric refrigerator which protects their liquids. One yawns, another blinks big, blue eyes as Nurse Vera Smith makes a routine inspection. DIRECTORS.New Uses and Markets
For Farm Commodities

Under the New Farm Bill, section 202 provides: The Secretary is hereby authorized and directed to establish, equip, and maintain four regional research laboratories, one in each major farm producing area, and at such laboratories, to conduct researches into and to develop new scientific, chemical, and technical uses and new and extended markets and outlets for farm commodities and products and by-products thereof. . . . etc.

This section of the Farm Bill has created an earnest desire in the minds of Texas people to get the government to place the Cotton Research Laboratory in this state. Chambers of Commerce and statewide cotton committees are behind this to the limit.

In Hamlin, the local Chamber of Commerce Directors endorsed the following resolution:

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE
TEXAS DELEGATION IN CONGRESS:

WHEREAS, the Farm Bill just passed by the Congress and signed by the President includes a provision, Section 202, that provides for the establishment of four regional laboratories, one to be constructed in each major farm producing area; and

WHEREAS, cotton, the South's chief crop, is one of the major farm products of the United States, and the South's principal source of income; and

WHEREAS, Texas is the dominant cotton producing state of this country, producing annually one-third and more of the total crop, and

WHEREAS, ninety per cent of the entire Texas cotton crop each year must be sold in foreign markets, which have been developed during the past 75 years; and

WHEREAS, these markets for the Texas cotton farmer have been seriously impaired by steadily increasing foreign production; and

WHEREAS, the Texas cotton farmer must find new outlets and new sources of income to replace these lost markets, which can only be developed through research and new or extended uses for cotton and its by-products, which is the purpose of the Research Laboratories provided for in the Farm Bill. The Texas cotton farmer, therefore, stands to gain most from the operation of such a laboratory.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, representing producers and all related branches of the entire cotton industry, that they respectfully request our representatives in the Congress of the United States to exert every possible effort to have the Secretary of Agriculture locate

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

McCAULEY MATTERS

By JOHN P. HARDESTY

We regret that we overlooked one important matter in our write-up of the funeral of Mr. Harrugthy last week, and that was to express the appreciation of the Monroe Maberry family to the McCauley friends who sent the lovely floral offering to the family at Jacksboro. We humbly beg the pardon of the family for the oversight.

Of special interest is the following account of the seventy-fourth birthday celebration of a McCauley woman who has lived among us for many years: 'Honoring Mrs. J. F. Wicker on her seventy-fourth birthday, a dinner was given at the Slaton Club House, March 13th. Placed before the guest of honor's plate at the long table was a three tiered cake, bearing the inscription "Happy Birthday." The cake was encircled with gifts. Nine of her ten children were present. Sons, Roy, C. C., Shorty and Elvin and their families all of Slaton and Bill Wicker of McCauley; daughters and families in attendance were: Mrs. J. E. Waldrop, Mrs. Jim Wolfe, of Slaton, Mrs. C. H. Wilson, of Winters and Mrs. J. O. Jones of Hamlin. The absent daughter is Mrs. J. I. Parker of McCauley. Fifteen of the thirty-nine grandchildren and four of the twelve great grandchildren were present. Out of town guests were Mrs. L. B. Miers and children of McCauley and Mrs. Tom Nall of Hamlin. Special guests were Mrs. W. D. Rhea and son of Houston and Earl Reasoner of Midway. This writer knew the Wickers before they moved to this section, and he is glad to join with the noble sons and daughters in honoring their fine mother who has been spared to them for these more than three score and ten years. This world needs more mothers like Mother Wicker. Heaven's best blessings on her and hers."

The B. T. U. of the Baptist church is in a training camp this week. The adults are being taught by the pastor, the seniors by Rev. O. D. Henly pastor of Sylvester, the intermediates by Alline Atkins and the juniors by Mrs. Hardesty.

The Methodist congregation is also in their program of the Preaching Mission this week. The following visitors are scheduled to speak: Rev. Farmer, Sylvester; Rev. Elmer Crabtree, Roby, Rev. Hollowell, Tye and Rev. Hanks, Hamlin.

Mrs. W. E. Martin, teacher in the Big Spring public schools, visited her parents, the Hardestys, Saturday and Sunday.

We are glad to place on our honor roll the following Anson friends and firms who have made generous gifts toward the building of the Baptist parsonage: T. P. Hudson, Panhandle Abstract Company, Judge Omar Burleson, Geo. O. Harrell, Gilbert Smith, E. Earl Isbell, Bill Dunwoody, A. Heidenheimer, Hudson Implement Co., W. H. Littlefield (Ideal Security Inc.), Huffman Motor Co., and The Hub. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young of Swedonia also favored us with a generous gift towards the new home, for which we are deeply grateful. Blessings on them. It was a joy to be in their beautiful country home and share in the noon lunch with them on Tuesday of this week.

Congratulations to the progressive little community of Swedonia and their fine public school. The program this school gave out over station K. R. B. C., on Tuesday afternoon was of the highest type and those appearing on the program acquitted themselves splendidly. It was fitting that the program was dedicated to our good friend and brother, J. A. Young. No man has put more into the uplift and substantial development of this section of country than he. He is the salt of the earth. May his tribe increase. The faculty of the Swedonia school are to be congratulated on their opportunity of serving in so fine a community. They are evidently measuring up to their opportunity and responsibility, judging from the character of the program they sponsored over the radio.

Alf Hemphill is constructing a new building next to the ice house to be occupied by Bonnie Bingham, the barber. Mr. Hemphill will continue in the ice business, with J. B. Jayroe as his associate. Mr. G. W. Martin having retired from the business.

Mrs. Edith Miers, former resident of McCauley, spent a short while in our midst Tuesday, on her return from Crosbyton, where she spent several days visiting with relatives. Accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Margaret Carter, of Lubbock, she returned to her home at Ovalo, where she lives with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Dick.

In the county debate tournament held at Roby, Monday night the Roby girls won first place and the McCauley girls won second. Sylvester girls tied with Dowell for third place. In the boys division, McCauley won first place while Dowell won second leaving Roby and Sylvester in a tie for third place. The McCauley teams have been coached by Hettie Logan Clay, member of the faculty. Nadine Land and Fay Lee compose the girls team, while Stanley Jackson and Ollie Ray Hennington compose the boys team.

MR. ALLRED WRITES ABOUT NATURAL RESOURCES WEEK

This week has been designated by official proclamation as Natural Resources Week in Texas.

Thousands of school children, civic club members, and other public spirited citizens are studying the possibilities for industrial development in this state as well as the immense importance of such development to the continued progress of Texas. Industrialists, business leaders, bankers, and capitalists are co-operating to insure the fullest realization of the importance of this week.

Thinking Texans for many years have realized the need for developing the unlimited natural resources of our rich empire to supplement the wealth obtained from our basic resources of agriculture and livestock. The wisdom of such a plan has become more apparent as worldwide competition has restricted the markets and sales of the elementary products from Texas farms and ranches.

Obviously a systematic and scientific expansion of these latent resources is necessary before the realization of a well balanced economic program between agriculture and industry can be obtained. The result will be a more abundant life for the people of Texas.

Working toward that attainment are two agencies: Texas Institute of Natural Resources and Industrial Development, located in Dallas, and the Texas Planning Board, an official arm of the state government. The Institute during Natural Resources Week will display more than 100 potential resources capable of development. In addition there will be addresses by informed and prominent citizens whose knowledge of Texas resources and their grasp of the problems to be solved should insure the best presentation of Texas' industrial future available.

It is hoped that this week will emphasize to the people of Texas the need for continued interest and thought on this subject so vital to the future progress of our state. It is fortunate that for three years Texas has had the unprecedented benefit of favorable nation-wide publicity which began before our Centennial year, and extended through the Pan American year, and is continuing into 1938.

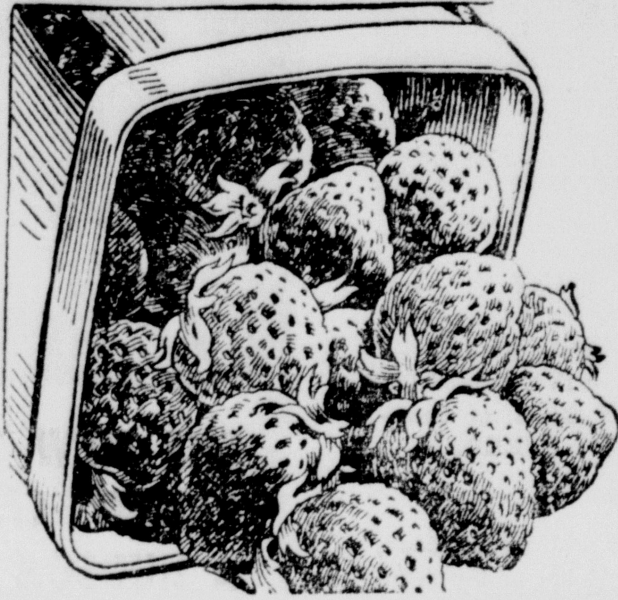

The rays of the nation's publicity spotlight has played upon Texas during these years, outlining in bold and favorable relief not only the progress we already have achieved, but the tremendous latent wealth of our resources upon whose proper development depends our future. By every possible publicity medium—the press, radio, newsreels, magazines, billboards—Texas has been presented to the nation.

As a result, thousands of tourists—both winter and summer—have filled our resort cities carrying back with them the story of Texas. National conventions have attracted thousands of delegates from over the nation who have become so enthusiastic that conventions of other national associations have been booked for years ahead in Texas cities.

Last week the representative of a prominent motion picture studio visited my office, told me of plans for the filming of the Life of Sam Houston, and said that the industry planned other films based on Texas history. Already on location in Texas at the time was another company filming a Texas picture. During the week, representatives of three national magazines visited in Austin on assignment for stories of Texas.

More recently, the Mother-In-Law Day celebration in Amarillo held the eyes and ears of the nation toward Texas. This unique celebration was inspired by the presence of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, and the governors of four neighboring states. Thousands of visitors from other states accompanied them while a national radio hook-up carried the mental pictures of the mammoth celebration to an interested nation. News stories, news reels, and magazine articles told the story of Mother-In-Law day and while doing it reflected favorable national attention upon Texas.

It is timely then for us to observe Natural Resources Week and reflect upon the invaluable publicity for Texas which has focused the eyes of the nation upon our present and future development. We certainly have something to sell and the buyers of the nation certainly will hear of it through continued publicity.—James V. Allred.
